

SALES ESTIMATOR

Join a small but long established family business specialising in structural glazing. Based in Farnham in Surrey, with customers and projects across the south of England, you would be working directly for Neil, our Managing Director, handling all our sales enquiries. This varied role will include, but not be limited to; liaising with architects on their designs, attending tender meetings, site surveying, reading drawings, sourcing the best materials at the best prices, the accurate and timely production of quotations, and follow-up activity to win the project.

We are responsible, honest and we work to a high standard – if you share these values and have some relevant experience or qualifications in estimating or surveying, and maybe even know something about glass in construction, please apply with your CV to: info@merondendesigns.co.uk.
